Daily Lunch.
George Luttner, corner of Fourteenth and Washington avenue, will furnish hereafter, every day to his patrons a No. 1 lunch, between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock. Fresh Milwaukee beer and fragrant Havana cigars to be had at his place at all times.

Notice of Removal.
Seiblich & Ulrich have removed their chemical dyeing and cleaning establishment from the corner of Eighth and Commercial to Washington Avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets. To meet the wants of their many customers, they have ordered and have just received from Europe a large lot of the finest dye stuffs, and are now ready to attend to any orders in their line.

Notice of Removal.
The well-known hairdresser, corner Eighth and Commercial, presided over by the popular artist, George Steinbock, has removed one door north on Commercial, in the Grand Central Hotel. The new shop is large and commodious, and those wishing for anything artistic in the way of fashionable hair cutting, smooth shaves, etc., will do well to call at the Grand Central Barber shop.
7-13-14-15.

Blacksmith Shop.
The old stand on Sixth street, between Commercial and Ohio Levee, is always ready to do any kind of work in the blacksmith line, making and repairing Wagons, Buggies and Drays. Especial attention given to horse-shoeing, as I make my own shoes; I can make them heavy or light, just as you desire, for you all know that the home made shoe is the best. Call round and I am sure to give you satisfaction.
7-13-14-15.

Piano and Organ Tuning.
Mr. M. Kuhne desires us to say that he is ready to receive orders for Piano and Organ tuning, and repairing musical instruments. Orders may be left at the corner of Thirtieth and Walnut streets, or P. O. Box 666, and will receive prompt attention.

Whence This Great Commotion
the country through, among the Alcoholic Bitter mongers? They stand agast at an innovator on their privilege of making drunkards of the sick. A competitor has come into the field with which they cannot contend. DR. J. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINKAR BITTERS, the undoubted essence of the most efficacious vegetable tonics and alteratives in the world, is driving all the still-born nostrums of King Alcohol to the wall. There is no disease, internal or external, in which it is not beneficially administered.
3-17-18-19-20-21-22-23-24-25-26-27.

Our Saloon.
The above saloon, corner of Eighth street and Commercial avenue, is fixed up in good style—airy and comfortable. Every Sunday morning you will find spread a No. 1 Lunch and a glass of Milwaukee Lager-beer, which can't be beat, and there is not any change. Behind the bar you will find the best kind of Liquors and Cigars, and my desire is to give every one of my customers who patronize me, satisfaction. Call round!
7-13-14-15.

Queensware.
I have just received the largest assortment of Queensware and Glassware, of the best quality, which, having bought at cash direct from the Importers and Manufacturers, I am enabled to sell at prices which defy competition, viz:
White Granite Breakfast Plates 60c per set.
White Granite Cups and Saucers, with handles, 80c per set.
Large Glass Goblets, 25c per set.
Large Glass Table Tumblers, 30c per set.
I invite everybody to call and examine my stock of Queens and Glassware and compare prices.
I have also just received a large Invoice of Table and Pocket cutlery, silver Plated and Britannia Table and Tea Spoons and Soup Ladles.

The Colored Schools.
The examination of the pupils attending the colored schools of Cairo commenced yesterday morning, and will continue through the week.

Completed.
The Cairo & St. Louis narrow gauge railroad turn-table, which has been weeks past been in course of construction, was completed a day or two ago.

Nearly Done.
From Mr. James Biggs we learn that the Cairo, Arkansas & Texas railroad company's incline plane, on the Missouri shore of the Mississippi river, is approaching completion rapidly. A few more weeks, it is said, will suffice to finish its construction.

Off the Track.
The two o'clock train on the Mississippi Central railroad, while running from the incline plane down to the Illinois Central depot, on the Illinois Central track, on Tuesday, ran off the track and smashed the truck of the baggage car up so badly that it had to be sent to the shops for repairs. No injury done to any one on the train.

Badly Bruised.
Tuesday evening, a little boy residing on Walnut, near the corner of Eighth street, while playing with some companions on the new turn-table of the Cairo & St. Louis Narrow Gauge railroad, fell under the table and received several severe bruises about the limbs. He was carried home and his wounds bathed with liniment. He will be all right again, and ready for another dose of the kind, in a few days.

The High School Exhibition.
The scholars of the High School are engaged every evening in preparing for their exhibition to come off at the Athenaeum to-morrow night. Their zeal in this affair is most commendable, and should be rewarded by our citizens on Friday evening with a crowded house. We are told that the programme will be one of more than ordinary interest, and will be enacted to the satisfaction of the audience.

The Knights' Sociable.
Treasurer Blake informs us that on Friday evening the Knights Templar, as heretofore announced, will hold their regular sociable at their hall, and the members will be pleased to greet those who have received invitations, assuring them a very pleasant time. To add to the enjoyment of their friends, the Knights have secured the services of a first-class string band for those who may have a desire to pass away the time in the pleasures afforded by tripping the light fantastic. The sociable will be amusing and pleasant, and those who are fortunate enough to hold an invitation should not fail to honor it.

Serenade.
The Delta City Cornet Band boys gladdened the hearts of the people residing near the corner of Eleventh and Walnut streets, on Tuesday evening, by giving them a prolonged serenade. The boys are proud of their new and beautiful instruments, and well they may be, for in tone they are excellent. The music played by the band is also fine, and has created considerable comment on the part of the citizens. One piece in particular, it practice is kept up, will not fail to draw many flattering words from all who chance to hear it, and that is, "Silver Threads Among the Gold." What is needed now to make the Delta a band hard to excel in practice, and we hope they will not neglect it.

A Night Dilemma.
Yesterday morning between 7 and 8 o'clock, as a brace of darkeys were strolling along Washington avenue, they were observed to stop and begin to flourish their clenched fists in the air, in close proximity to each other's nose. Presently the larger darkey, known to the boys by the appellation of "Hunky," pulled off his coat and went for his partner with the fixed determination of teaching him a lesson not soon to be forgotten. The other darkey, whose name we are told is Thomas Green, didn't seem at all backward, and received his enemy with a well directed blow, which for a moment stunned Hunky; but he soon recovered, and then it was give and take until the combat was brought to a close by the intervention of some friends, who chanced to be passing by. The fuss, we are told, grew out of jealousy, both the darkeys being suitors of a damsel who seems to be endeavoring to keep on the good side of both, by treating them alike, showing no preference either way; but the darkeys, each wishing to outwit the other, took opportunity to pour some story into the ear of his adversary on every occasion. Hunky swears he will have revenge, as does Thomas, if it costs him his life.

They Thought He Was Dead.
Yesterday morning, a little German boy, residing in the lower part of the city, with his parents, wanted to have a little sport, and accordingly mounted a colt belonging to a gentleman of the neighborhood. No sooner was the urchin seated upon the back of the animal than it lifted him gently into the air, and he fell to the ground, flat upon his stomach, where he lay, insensible.

The mother and sister of the boy saw the mishap of their beloved, and ran to his assistance, wringing their hands and sobbing in the most heartrending manner. Upon arriving at the spot where the boy lay, they discovered that to all appearances he was dead, and the sobs and hand wringing grew more touching. The boy was picked up and carried to his home, where suddenly he came to life, and after a moment or two rolled from the bed, when it struck the mother and sister that the wind had been knocked out of the lad, and nothing more. Their tone suddenly changed, and the mother said: "D—n your little hide, if ever you get on another horse, and scare me that way again, I hope he'll kick your infernal mean head off," and she caressed him upon the cheek with the back of her hand, the same making him yelp with pain. The sister also joined in with, "You always were a d—d little fool and the sooner you're dead the better it'll be for us and you too," and Johnny left the house with "Big ball up town," boys—big ball up town," none the worse for his tumble.

The Methodist Spelling Match.
As Harrell of the Gazette says, "we have got it"—the spelling match fever—and a bad case of it at that. The next match is the one to be given by the ladies of the Methodist church, at the church parlors, this evening. The persons into whose hands the arrangements for the entertainment were placed, have, we are credibly informed, completed every particular part of them, and that the spelling match will be a success there is no room for doubt. The programme, as it now stands, embraces select reading, singing and spelling. Mrs. W. P. Wright will contribute to the entertainment a select reading, which we are certain will be of much interest. Beside this, there will be some splendid music by members of the choir. The committee of arrangements wish us to state that the amusements for the evening will begin at precisely eight o'clock, and it is their desire that every one who can, should be present. The prize offered for the best speller is a very appropriate and beautiful one, being either a Webster's Unabridged Pictorial Dictionary, or Macaulay's History of England, beautifully printed and bound. There is much speculation as to who will carry away the prize. Some are of the opinion that Miss McKee will be the lucky person, while others are confident that Miss Houston will come out of the contest, with flying colors. The male spellers of the city don't seem to sell very high at the pool box, the people being disgusted with the effort made by them on the occasion of the Presbyterian spelling match. There is certainly a very choice lot of sport in store for those who attend, and we predict that the audience will be a very large one.

Police Court.
—The following business was disposed of by His Honor, Judge Cross, yesterday: The first case was that of a colored man, who gave his name as Irvin Maxwell, whom Officer Lafitte had bagged for stealing a coat, the property of a man named Henry Wilson, valued at five dollars. The evidence in the case did not seem sufficient in the mind of the Judge to convict the defendant, and he was allowed to go in peace.

—Officer Wooten has become tired of seeing stock, such as horses, cows, mules, hogs, etc., running at large upon the public highway, and has made up his mind to put a stop to it. With this view, he took into custody a man named Nelson, who he alleged is the owner of hogs, and allowed the same to run at large. The Judge, after considering the case, fined Nelson three dollars and costs, and sent him to the lock-up for four days. He will labor on the streets.

—Matt Keys was arrested by Officer Wooten for the same offence, but the evidence in his case was not deemed strong enough to convict him, and he was set at liberty.

—The last case was that of Louis Williams, the negro arrested in Howie Brothers' cellar, last Saturday night, while in the act of stealing hams. The Judge, after hearing of Louis' bad conduct, placed him under six hundred dollars bail, in default of payment, he was sent to the county jail to await the action of the circuit court at its next term.

The People's Friend.
It is susceptible of easy proof that the Sewing Machine has been a greater blessing to the masses of American people than any invention of the present century. Nothing else has done so much to save the lives and health of the wives and mothers, the patient, overworked women of the land, who, as a class, most needed relief from the burthen of every-day life. Every father and husband fails in his duty if he neglects to endow his home with such a triumph of science as the Wilson Shuttle Sewing Machine. Machines will be delivered at any Railroad Station in this country, free of transportation charges, if ordered through the Company's Branch House at 610, North Fourth street, St. Louis, Mo.

They send an elegant catalogue and chrono circular free on application. This Company want a few more good agents.

General Items.
—The masquerade ball at Charleston was a grand affair.

—Go to the Methodist spelling match to-night, and have a good time.

—Don't fail to attend the spelling match at the Methodist church this evening. It will be good to be there.

—The warm rain of yesterday afternoon brought the buds out on the shade trees of the city.

—Justus Cunningham is out and about again, after several weeks' sickness, looking as hale and hearty as ever.

—From an article published in the Sun of last evening, we learn that during the year of 1874, 381,892 barrels of flour were sold in this city.

—It is said that Mr. James Reardon, of this city, will succeed Mr. Weirick, as agent for the Mississippi Valley Transportation company.

—The levee has not presented an appearance so dead for many days, as on yesterday. There was comparatively nothing done during the entire day.

—Dr. Wood is the father of a bright boy, who made his arrival several days ago, and the doctor says he don't feel "stuck up" over it, either.

—The police courts still continue to do a reasonable amount of business, though no trials of very great importance have taken place for some days past.

—The members of the "Woman's Club and Library Association" are determined to make their spelling match, at the Athenaeum next Monday night, a grand success.

—The lovers of real enjoyment should not fail to attend the spelling match to be given by the ladies of the Methodist congregation in the church parlors this evening.

—Capt. Weirick, we are told, has resigned his position at this point as agent of the Mississippi Valley Transportation company, and will remove shortly to St. Louis.

—We are told that the Rev. Mr. Gilbert will deliver his lecture, which was postponed from last Tuesday on account of the death of a personal friend, on next Tuesday evening.

—A fight between two negroes, all about a colored damsel, who don't care a continental for either of them, was the attraction on Washington avenue yesterday morning.

—The public schools will close on Friday for one week's vacation, and the scholars will have an opportunity to enjoy themselves in the pleasures of boating, base ball and other sports.

—Tom Sullivan is removing his drug store from his old stand to a more business-like part of the city, and is confident that the expense incurred in the change will be fully made up by the increase of sales.

—Mr. Gilbert informs us that his parish school is in a most flourishing condition. We are glad to hear this, and hope that the reverend gentleman will reap a rich reward for the trouble he has incurred in establishing it.

—The board of education have set apart Saturday, the 3d of April, as the time to hold an election for the purpose of electing two members of the board of education for the ensuing term of three years. The election will be held at the Eleventh street school house.

—Much interest is manifested in the public school examination now in progress. The knowledge of the various studies pursued by the scholars proves clearly to those in attendance at the examination that their time has been usefully employed.

—The parents of the thousand and one children that play about the railroad tracks in this city, should teach the darlings there is danger in it, and keep them away from the cars. A sight that may be seen at all hours of the day, is youngsters, hardly able to toddle, jumping on the cars when in full motion.

—The time announced by the Odd-Fellows for their great celebration to take place on the fair grounds at Jonesboro, slowly approaches, and the members of that order, we learn from the journals of the various towns around us, are making arrangements to participate. It will be a big thing.

—Officer Wooten has come to the conclusion that the habit of owners of hogs, cows, mules, horses, etc., of letting their stock run at large on the public thoroughfares is "too thin", and is working hard to break it up in the part of the city under his care. He had two offenders up before Judge Cross yesterday, one of whom was fined and the other discharged. We hope that he will continue in his good work.

Real Estate Taxes.
All taxes of whatever character or description, will become delinquent on the 15th instant, and work upon the delinquent tax list will then be commenced. Persons in arrears for taxes will make a note of this, as a further notice will be given, and no further leniency can be extended to them by the collector, under the law.

The Age of Discovery.
W. Winter, the artist, is about to present to the citizens of Cairo a new picture, with all the coloring of real life. The means of working these charming and life-like pictures will not be withheld from the public. The modus operandi is as follows: On the right hand side of the camera is attached a mill which contains the prismatic colors in a pulverized state. As the colors pass into the camera they are received by a fan wheel which keeps the atoms in motion. The photographic plate, while wet, is then placed in the camera—the sitters being in position. The handle of the mill is gently turned. The cap of tube is removed, the image of the sitters begins to form while passing through the colored atmosphere, the particles of dust falling where they properly belong. When, presto! you have a beautiful picture of yourself or friend.

Mr. W. is also making a picture called the nonpareil, a beautiful style, suitable for lockets and miniature cases. Large assortment of the latter on hand. Gallery open daily.

RIVER, BUSINESS AND WEATHER.
—The river has fallen 7 1/2 inches since last report. The Mississippi is still rising at St. Louis, and there is plenty of water in the channel. The Ohio is rising at Cincinnati, and is on a stand at Louisville. The Cumberland is falling, with 21 feet 6 inches on the shoals.

—Business on the levee yesterday was dull. The few boats that arrived added very little.

—Cloudy and mild in the morning; raining in the afternoon and evening, and no signs of clearing up at this writing (7 p. m.).

MISCELLANEOUS.
—Constant Glandey arrested a couple of negroes yesterday afternoon, who have been loitering around the wharf-boats for several days, for stealing a coat from a colored gent, claiming to be a Cincinnati. The coat was hardly worth picking up, but the owner claims to have paid $8 for it in Cincinnati two years ago.

—The splendid passenger steamer, Pat Cleburne, is the Evansville packet at 6 o'clock this evening.

—The Carrie V. Kountz and Atlantic are due this evening from St. Louis for New Orleans.

—The Chester had a moderate trip.

—The Bell Memphis had 9 bales cotton, 100 sewing machines and several tons of sundries.

—The Fannie Tatum, John A. Williams in command, passed up for St. Louis, having no freight. She will lay up at that port.

—The St. Joe is due this morning from Memphis for St. Louis.

—The Signal office at Washington has given notice that owing to the small amount of funds at the disposal of the Chief Signal officer for telegraph purposes for the remainder of the fiscal year, the river reports from Shreveport, Cairo, Benton, Davenport, Dubuque and Nashville, have been discontinued.

—Last Saturday morning, while the Carroll was lying at Vanell's landing, 16 miles above this city, a man by the name of Thos. Jones, who had shipped as deck hand at Long Reach, fell overboard and was drowned. He leaves a wife at Long Reach, to whom he had been married only three weeks.

—The Grand Tower is the Anchor Line packet for Memphis this evening.

—The Evansville and Paducah packets arrived and returned with fair trips.
